REPORT

OF THE

POSTMASTER GENERAL

TO THE

Sin:—I have the honor to submit the following report of the condition and progress of business of the Post-Office

Department:

The eighth section of the first article of the Constitution provides that Congress is "to establish post-offices and post-routes; but the expenses of the Post-Office Department, after the first day of March, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and sixty-three, shall be paid out of its own revenues."

As stated in my last report, the total cost of the postal service in the Confederate States, exclusive of the States of Kentucky and Missouri, over which our postal service has been but partially extended, was, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1860, four million two hundred and ninety-six thousand two hundred and forty-six dollars and seventy-eight cents, ($4,296,246 78).

The total receipts of revenue derived from postages, for the same period, were one million five hundred and seventeen thousand five hundred and forty dollars and fifty-five cents, ($1,517,540 55).

The excess of expenditure over receipts, for the same time, was two million seven hundred and seventy-eight thousand seven hundred and six dollars and twenty-three cents. ($2,778,706 23).

Among the means adopted by Congress to enable the Post-Office Department to overcome this large deficiency, and to render the Department self-sustaining, was, the abolition of the franking privilege; the increase of the rates of postage on all descriptions of mailable matter; the prohibition of the carrying of newspapers and other mailable matter over the post-routes as freight; the providing that all contracts to be made for carrying the mails should be let to the lowest bidder, without reference to the mode of conveyance; the clothing of the Postmaster General with power "to annul contracts, or to discontinue or curtail the service and pay on them, when he shall deem it advisable to dispense with the service in whole or in part," on the conditions specified in the law; and the reduction of the rates of compensation to railroad companies.

CONTRACT BUREAU.

In order to prepare the Department to meet the requirements of the Constitution, that it shall be made self-sustaining after the first of March, 1863, and in execution of the laws, and to carry out the policy of Congress on this subject, I have, from time to time, curtailed the service on such routes as would admit of it, and wholly discontinued it on others where this could be done without material inconvenience to the public, and where the cost of the service was grossly disproportionate to the receipts from postages. I have also discontinued the service of such route and local agents as could be dispensed with.

In addition to the reduction of the cost of service by curtailments and discontinuances, above referred to, the performance of service has been prevented on a number of steamboat and steamship routes, by the hostile fleets of the enemy.

Tabular statement marked A, herewith submitted, exhibits, in detail, the several routes on which the service has been curtailed or discontinued, and the reduction of annual expenditure occasioned thereby, for the present fiscal year.

The reduced expenditure, by curtailments of service, by this statement, is $261,716  By discontinuance of service, by order of the Department, 129,785  By discontinuance of service by the blockade, 340,250	98
Making a total annual reduction of the cest of service, of $731,752	62
In accordance with the requirements of the Act of C gress of the 9th of May last, I have divided the railroad the Confederate States into three classes, and assigned compensation to be allowed to each for carrying the manual assignment, herewith submitted, marked B, exits, in detail, the present annual cost of the railroad serves as compared with its cost for the fiscal year, ending J	ls of the ails. hib-30, 1860.  From this, it will be seen that the railroad service, for the year ending June 30, 1860, cost $1,036,998 And that, for the present fiscal year, it costs 900,625
Amount saved to the Treasury by this reduction, Add reductions of expenditure by curtail-	08
ment and discontinuance of other branches of the service, 731,752	62

It will be seen, by reference to tabular statement B, that there were seven thousand and nine miles of railroad in operation in the Confederate States in the year 1860; and that there are now eight thousand two hundred and sixty-five miles in operation—showing an increase of twelve hundred and fifty-six miles. I would state, in this connection, that, owing to the completion of a number of railroads since 1860, and the perfecting of new and important connections thereby, the rate of compensation has been increased on them; and the aggregate cost of the service has been increased, under the new classification, by the additional number of miles run. From this it will be seen that the rate of reduction of the cost of the railroad service is greater than is shown by the aggregate cost of the service at the two periods above named. Several of the railroads now carrying the mails under contract with this Department, heretofore carried them under sub-contracts with other contractors; and the cost of that kind of service has not been embraced in any statement of railroad service heretofore exhibited.

$868,125 70

Giving a total annual saving to the Department, of

At the date of my last report, there were ninety-one railroads and branches known to the Department, and but fifteen of them had entered into contracts with the Department for carrying the mails. Now, there are one hundred and nine roads and branches, and fifty-five have entered into contract. And these embrace nearly all the important railroads in the Confederate States.

At the date of my last report, thirteen hundred and seventy-two contracts for carrying the mails had been prepared in duplicate and sent out for execution; and eight hundred and thirty-three of them had been executed and returned to the Department. Up to this date sixteen hundred and twenty-five contracts have been prepared in like manner and sent out for execution; and thirteen hundred and six have been returned executed—leaving three hundred and nineteen outstanding, which have not been executed, as will appear by tabular statement hereto annexed, marked C.

The contracts for carrying the mails in the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri, will expire on the 30th June next; and advertisements have been prepared and are being sent out, inviting proposals for carrying the mails in all of the above named States, except Kentucky and Missouri, for four years from the first of July next. Owing to the occupation of a large portion of the territory of the two States last mentioned by the Federal troops, it is not practicable, at present, to relet the service in those States.

By the twenty-third section of "An Act to change the organization of the Post Office Department, and to provide more effectually for the settlement of the accounts thereof," approved July 2, 1836, it is provided "that it shall be the duty of the Postmaster General, before advertising for proposals for the transportation of the mails, to form the best judgment practicable as to the mode, time and frequency of transportation on each route, and to advertise accordingly."

I have endeavored to comply with the requirements of the law above quoted by making a careful revision of all the routes established by law in the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Tennessee, by determining the time and frequency of transporting the mails on each route, by omitting to ask for a renewal of service on such routes as were deemed unnecessary, and by taking the requisite steps for securing service on new routes where it is required. The mode of service is determined by our statute, as stated in a former part of this report.

Tabular statement, marked D, hereto annexed, exhibits, in detail, the number, termini and present cost of service of all the routes which it was deemed advisable to omit in the advertisements heretofore referred to. From this exhibit, it will also be seen that the present cost of service, on the routes omitted, and which have heretofore been in service, amounts to four hundred and ninety-four thousand one hundred and eighty-nine dollars and eighty-nine cents. This exhibit will also show the number of routes established by law, which have not heretofore been in service, so far as this Department is advised, and which are not included in the advertisement for service for the next four years.

In revising and systematizing the routes in the States above named, it became necessary to advertise for service on some routes not heretofore established by law, in order to promote efficiency and economy in the service. A descriptive list of these routes is hereto annexed, marked E; and their establishment as post routes is respectfully recommended.

The transportation of the mails constitutes the chief item of the expenditure of the Post-Office Department. The total cost of transporting the mails in the Confederate States, (excepting Kentucky and Missouri) for the year 1860, was three million four hundred and thirteen thousand two hundred and eighty dollars, ($3,413,280.) Looking to the necessity of rendering the Department self-sustaining, the following reductions have been made in the cost of this branch of the service, to wit:

By curtailments and discontinuances of service on routes as stated in a former part of this report,

$868,125 70

By cost of service on routes which will be discontinued after 30th June, next

420,571 50

In addition to these means of reducing this item of expenditure, under the new service to be commenced on the first of July next, the number of trips on a large number of routes has been reduced, and long routes have been, in many instances, broken up into shorter ones, so as to induce greater competition by opening them to a greater number of bidders. These measures, added to the letting of all contracts on "star bids," should produce a considerable reduction of the cost of mail transportation. But this may, in a greater or less degree, be counteracted by a reduction of competition in bids for the new service, on account of the large number of our citizens who are in the army. And if it shall be found that the price of animals and vehicles, and forage and subsistence is increased by the existence of the war, that will also increase the cost of the new mail service; and, to that extent, counterbalance the anticipated reductions of the cost of the service.

It is also to be remembered that the postal service in a considerable portion of Western Virginia is not under our control; and this will reduce the cost of the service during the present condition of that section of the State. This will, also, diminish the revenue of the Department—but there will, nevertheless, be an augmentation of the current revenue, without reference to this part of Virginia.

The reduction of cost of service, by curtailments and discontinuances of service on routes, has been more limited in the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida than in the other States heretofore named, on account of the want of the necessary maps. But these maps are in process of completion, and when completed, will enable the Department to make additional reductions of the cost of the service in these States, similar in extent to the reductions made in the other States.

These facts, considered in connection with the augmented receipts of revenue from postages, which will be exhibited in another part of this report, will furnish the information now in possession of the Department upon which to estimate the probability of its being rendered self-sustaining by the time prescribed in the Constitution.

The tabular statements above referred to, have been prepared with great care and labor by the Contract Bureau, and exhibit a large amount of valuable information, in detail, in relation to the postal service, in addition to that heretofore specially referred to in this report; and attention is respectfully invited to them.

APPOINTMENT BUREAU.

The whole number of Post-Offices in the Confederate States, at this date, excepting those in Kentucky and Missouri, and including those in Western Virginia, is 8,389 Number established since June 1, 1861. 116 Number discontinued since June 1, 1861, 257 Number of Postmasters appointed since June 1, 7,009 1861. Number of Postmasters commissioned since June 5,266 1. 1861. Number of Postmasters who have resigned since 807 June 1, 1861. Number of Postmasters who have been removed 265 since June 1, 1861, Number of Postmasters who have died since June 80 1, 1561,

All of which will appear in detail, by reference to tabular exhibit, marked F, herewith submitted.

No material changes have been made of Postmasters subject to Presidential appointment, or of special, route, and local agents, since my last report.

In answer to the advertised proposal for printing Post-Office blanks, for the use of the Department for the next four years, since my last report a bid has been accepted and a contract sent out for execution, on terms favorable to the Department.

The whole number of requisitions from Postmasters, for supply of Post-Office blanks, wrapping paper, and twine, since the 1st of June, 1861, is

The number of requisitions supplied in full,

Number of requisitions to be supplied,

1,212

Which will appear in detail, by reference to tabular statement marked G, herewith submitted.

This Bureau has been prevented from promptly and fully supplying all the demands for blanks, &c., for Post-Offices, by the difficulty which has been encountered in obtaining paper and having the printing done. But, it is thought, this difficulty will soon be overcome, and the supply be made equal to the demand.

FINANCE BUREAU.

In order to give a full view of the operations of the Finance Bureau, I will present its condition, as shown by the Chief of the Bureau, on the 19th November last, as exhibited in my last report, and its operations; as shown from that date to the present.

At the request of the French Consul in Richmond, all dead letters for France have been opened, and those which contained valuables delivered to him. Those for Great Britain have been delivered to the British Consul unopened.

The first postage stamps were delivered to the Department, under the contract by which it is now supplied, on the

These stamps have been distributed to such post offices as were in the vicinity of military encampments, to the large cities, and to such of the principal and smaller towns as the number furnished by the printer has enabled the Department to supply. The Department, however, has just received from Europe, under the order referred to in my last report, two millions one hundred and fifty thousand (2,150,000) five cent stamps, equal to one hundred and seven thousand five hundred dollars, ($107, 500 00,) which, added to the number above stated, makes the total number of stamps received twelve million three hundred and forty-one thousand five hundred, (12,341,500.) amounting to six hundred and sixty-two thousand one hundred and eighty dollars, ($ 662,-180 00.) This number, together with those being furnished by the printer in this city, will enable the Department, in a very short time, to furnish every office with a full supply.

Two cent stamps have been much needed, and it is believed the Department will be able to supply them soon.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

As shown by my last report, the total expenditures of the Department for the fractional part of the quarter which ended on the 30th June last, were two hundred thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven dollars and ninety-seven cents, (200,937 97,) and the total receipts, ninety-two thousand three hundred and eighty-seven dollars and sixty-seven cents, ($92,387 67,) leaving an excess of expenditures over receipts of one hundred and eight thousand five hundred and fifty three dollars and thirty cents, ($108,553 30.)

By the report of the Auditor of the Treasury for the Post Office Department for the quarter ending 30th September, 1861, a copy of which is hereto annexed, marked H, it is shown that the total expenditures of the Department for that quarter amounted to six hundred and sixty-nine thousand six hundred and twelve dollars and eighty-four cents, ($ 669,612 84,) and the receipts to four hundred and fourteen thousand one hundred and fifty-five dollars and seventy-four cents, (414,155 74,) leaving an excess of expenditure over receipts of two hundred and fifty-five thousand four hundred and fifty-seven dollars and ten cents, ($ 255,457 10.) This shows an aggregate of expenditures, during the first four months of the operation of this Department, of eight hundred and seventy thousand five hundred and fifty dollars and eighty-one cents, ($870,550 81,) and an aggregate of receipts, for the same period, of five hundred and six thousand five hundred and forty-three dollars and forty-one cents, ($ 506,543 41,) leaving an excess of expenditure over receipts of three hundred and sixty-four thousand and seven dollars and forty cents, ($ 364,007 40.)

The total receipts of revenue from postages for these States, under the Government of the United States, for the fiscal year which ended June 30th, 1860, were one million five hundred and seventeen thousand five hundred and forty dollars and fifty-five cents, ($1,517,540 55.) One fourth of the above sum, equal to one quarter of the yearly receipts, is three hundred and seventy-nine thousand three hundred and eighty-five dollars and thirteen cents, ($379,-385 13,) being thirty-four thousand seven hundred and seventy dollars and sixty-one cents, ($34,770 61,) less than the amount of the receipts for the quarter which ended on the 30th September last.

The report of the Auditor, for the quarter ending 31st December last, cannot, in the order of business, be made before April next; so that I am unable at this time to present a statement of the receipts and expenditures for that quarter. It is fair to presume, however, that the receipts of that quarter will considerably exceed the amount of the receipts for the quarter which ended the 30th of September, on account of the fact that postage stamps were distributed for use to a considerable extent during the greater part of the quarter, thereby facilitating the payment of postage, which had been rendered difficult during the preceding quarter from the scarcity of specie.

The Department experienced some delay and difficulty in the collection of its revenues, during the first months of its active existence, by not having a large number of the post-masters appointed and bonded and under its efficient control, as well as on account of the fact that but few of the mail carriers had entered into contract with this Government, and therefore could not be furnished with collection orders, so as to act as the agents of the Government in collecting balances due it in the hands of postmasters on their respective routes. These difficulties are being removed by perfecting the organization of the Department and by the increasing efficiency of the organization of the Auditor's Office. The Department, therefore, confidently relies on realizing the greater portion of its accruing revenues to meet its current liabilities.

Assuming that the receipts for the quarter which ended the 30th September, will not exceed the average receipts per quarter for the year, which I think may be safely relied on, the receipts for the current year will be one million six hundred and fifty-six thousand six hundred and twenty-two dollars and ninety-six cents, ($1,656,622 96.)

The total receipts in the year 1860, were one million five hundred and seventeen thousand five hundred and forty dollars and fifty-five cents, ($1,517, 40 55.) The estimated increase of the receipts of the present over those of the preceding year, is one hundred and thirty nine thousand and eighty-two dollars and forty-one cents, ($139,082 41.) The amount of the fines and deductions imposed on contractors for failures and irregularities in the service are also to be placed to the credit of the Department. The fines imposed on contractors, up to the 31st of December last, were seven hundred and sixty-four dollars and six cents, ($764 06.) The amount of deductions to same date, was thirty-one thousand two hundred and eighty-three dollars and thirteen cents, ($31,283 .3.) Making in all, thirty-two thousand and forty-seven dollars and nineteen cents, ($32,047 19.)

I assume the expenditures of the year ending June 30th, 1860, under the Government of the United States, as the safest basis for an estimate of the expenditures and liabilities of the Department for the year ending June 30th, next, as our present expenditures are being made under contracts then in existence, except as they have been modified by this Department, by omissions of contractors to perform service, or by the occupation of parts of our territory by the public enemy.

The total expenditures of that year were $4,296,246 78

Subject to the following deductions:

- $2,476,683 32

Leaving a balance unprovided for, of 919,390 57
Which will have to be provided for by Congress from the general Treasury.

In making the foregoing estimate of receipts and expenditures, I have not included the month of June last, which was the closing month of the last fiscal year, as we now reckon the fiscal year. The excess of expenditure over receipts for that month, was one hundred and eight thousand five hundred and fifty-three dollars and thirty cents, ($108,553 30,) which would be so much to be added to the above sum to be provided for from the general Treasury. But as the Department has not been charged with the expense of the service in a considerable portion of Western Virginia, nor in Tennessee, until after the 8th day of June last, nor on a number of routes elsewhere, on which the service has been abandoned, it will be safe to omit the expenses of that month in the amount to be appropriated from the general Treasury.

From this it will be seen that the estimated excess of expenditure over receipts for thirteen months, ending the 30th June next, is one million seven hundred and thirty-nine thousand four hundred and fifty dollars and ninety-five cents, ($1,739,450 95.) while the deficiency in the same States, under the Government of the United States, for a like period, ending June 30th, 1860, was three million and ten thousand two hundred and sixty-five dollars and ten cents, ($3,010,265 10,) being an excess of deficiency of one million two hundred and seventy thousand eight hundred and fourteen dollars and seventeen cents, ($1,270,814 17 cents,) more than the estimated deficiency under the Confederate States.

TELEGRAPH LINES.

Under the several acts relating to the construction and control of telegraph lines, the sum of seven thousand one hundred and twenty-one dollars and eighty cents (7,121-89) has been expended between the date of my last report and the 31st December last, as will appear by reference to the Auditor's report, herewith accompanying.

A supplemental contract has been made with the Texas Telegraph Company, since the date of my last report, extending the time for the completion of the line of telegraph from the City of New Orleans to the City of Houston, to the fifteenth day of May next. And on the 27th of February, inst., the Department issued an order to William S. Morris, President of the Southern Telegraph Company, to build and put in operation a line of telegraph from Weldon, in the State of North Carolina, to Suffolk, in the State of Virginia, which, it is expected, will be completed in twenty days from the date of the above order. A line has also been built from Dumfries to Evansport; another from Manassas to Centreville, and an additional line from Stafford Court House to Brooks' Station, in Virginia.

For a full account of the action of the Department on this subject, reference is respectfully made to my last report.

EXPRESS COMPANIES AS MAIL CARRIERS.

Under the seventh section of "An Act to prescribe the rates of postage in the Confederate States of America, and for other purposes," approved February 23, 1861, express and other chartered companies are prohibited from carrying any letters "unless the same shall be prepaid, by being enclosed in a stamped envelope of this Confederacy," and a penalty of five hundred dollars is denounced against any such company for violating the statute.

By the fifth section of "An Act vesting certain powers in the Postmaster General," approved March 15, 1861, it is provided "that it shall be lawful for the Postmaster General to allow express and other chartered companies to carry letters, and all mail matter of every description, whether the same be enclosed in stamped envelopes or prepaid by stamps, or in money; but if the same be prepaid in money, the money shall be paid to some Postmaster, who shall stamp the same paid, and shall account to the Post-Office Department for the same, in the same manner as for letters sent by the mail: and if prepaid by stamps, then the express or other company receiving such letters for delivery, shall obliterate such stamps, under the penalty of five hundred dollars for each failure; but if said letters or mail matter shall be received by such express or other company, not for delivery, but to be mailed, then the matter so carried shall be prepaid at the same rate that the existing law requires it to be paid, from the point where it may be received by such company to the point of its destination; and the Postmaster, where such company may mail the same, shall deface the stamps upon the same."

By the sixth section of the foregoing act, each agent of any company which may carry letters under its provisions, is required "to take an oath that he will faithfully comply with the law of the Confederate States relating to the carrying of letters or other mail matter, and obliterating postage stamps."

These three sections embrace all of our legislation on this subject.

By the ninth section of "An Act to reduce the rates of postage, to limit the use, and correct the abuse, of the franking privilege, and for the prevention of frauds on the revenues of the Post-Office Department," approved March 3, 1845, private express companies are expressly prohibited from carrying "any letters, packets or packages of letters, or other matter properly transmissible by the United States mail, except newspapers, pamphlets, magazines and periodicals;" and a penalty of one hundred and fifty dollars is denounced against any violation of the law.

It has come to the knowledge of the Department that numerous frauds have been perpetrated against its revenues by what is known as the Southern Express Company; and prosecutions have been ordered against it in a number of cases. But from supposed defects in our legislation on the subject, it is regarded as doubtful, by some of the law officers in charge of these cases, whether the prosecutions can be sustained against the company, and especially in States where it has not been incorporated.

It will also be seen, by reference to the fifth section of the "Act vesting certain powers in the Postmaster General," that the only penalty provided by it is against a failure to "obliterate postage stamps" on letters prepaid by stamps. And no penalty has been provided against any person connected with, or employed by, an express company.

The Southern Express Company is the only company carrying mailable matter, so far as is known to the Department, and the number of frauds being perpetrated by its agents upon the revenues of the Department will render it necessary for me to refuse to allow it to carry mailable matter, except such as is provided for in the seventh section of the Act of February 23d, 1861, above referred to, until some scheme can be devised for the better security of the revenues of the Department, if Congress shall think it necessary to attempt to provide such a scheme.

POSTAGE OF AGENTS AND CONTRACTORS OF THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

I must call attention to the recommendation made in my last report, that Congress provide some means of relieving special, and route, and local agents, and contractors, from the payment of the postage on their official correspondence. The agents are required to correspond with the Department and with postmasters and others on the business of the Department. The correspondence of the special agents is voluminous; and contractors for carrying the mails are required to make frequent responses to communications sent them from the Department in relation to the service, and to return to the Auditor, quarterly, the evidence of payments made them for such service, and to report to the Department the cause of every failure and of all irregularities in the service on their several routes. My recommendations on this subject were not acted on, and I beg respectfully to renew them, and to call attention to the reasons stated in my last report for requesting this action; and also to renew the suggestions contained in that report, as to the modes of remedying this defect of legislation.

COMPENSATION TO CONTRACTORS FOR PAST SERVICES.

The condition of those contractors for carrying the mails under the Government of the United States, who continued to carry them in the several States of this Confederacy after they seceded from the Government of the United States, and before this Government took charge of the postal service, on the first of June last, requires consideration by Congress. But few of the contractors in all these States received any payments from the United States for their services after the secession of their respective States. This Government has made no provision for their payment, except to direct the collection of balances in the hands of postmasters on the first of June last, due to the United States. and hold the sum so collected for pro rata payment to these contractors, after ascertaining the amounts due them for such service. The Auditor is unable, as yet, to report to. me the amount of the outstanding balances in the hands of postmasters, or the amount of indebtedness to contractors; and I am unable to come to a correct conclusion as to what success may attend his efforts to collect these balances. But, at the best which can be expected, the amount to be collected from postmasters will pay but a small part of the amount due to this class of contractors.

These contractors are entitled to great credit for having continued to perform this service, without any certain assurance as to when and how they were to be paid. If they had determined to abandon the service on the secession of their several States, (and there was no power to compet them to continue it,) the result to our country and cause must have been deplorable, while the difficulty of putting the service in operation under our new Government would have been greatly augmented. And though the Government of the United States received a part of the revenues arising from postages in these States after it had ceased to make payments to contractors, and only gave them notice of the discontinuance of their contracts under that Government, from and after the 31st of May last, this does not weaken their claim on us for compensation, as their services were chiefly beneficial to our people. It is to be remembered, too, that they continued, in most instances, to perform this service under this Government for a considerable length of time after it assumed the control of the service, before the Department could command the information necessary to enable it to make payments to them for the current service. The whole subject is respectfully submitted for the consideration of Congress.

REDUCTION OF THE RATES OF COMMISSIONS ALLOWED TO POST-MASTERS.

I would respectfully call the attention of Congress to the necessity of a revision of the "Act regulating the pay of Deputy Postmasters," approved June 22, 1854. Under that act they are allowed, as a compensation for their services, commissions "on the postage collected at their respective offices in each quarter of the year, and in due proportion for any period less than a quarter, viz:

"On any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, sixty per cent.; but any Postmaster at whose office the mail is to arrive regularly, between the hours of nine o'clock at night and five o'clock in the morning, may be allowed seventy per cent. on the first hundred dollars.

"On any sum over and above one hundred dollars, and not exceeding four hundred dollars, fifty per cent.

"On any sum over and above four hundred dollars, but not exceding twenty-four hundred dollars, forty per cent.

"And on all sums over twenty-four hundred dollars, fifteen per cent.

"On the amount of postage on letters and packages received at a distributing office for distribution, twelve-and-one-half per cent. commissions may be allowed."

The rate of postage on which the foregoing rates of commissions were allowed, was, for any distance embraced within the limits of the Confederate States, three cents; whereas the same rates of commission are now allowed on the following rates of postage, viz:

For every single sealed letter conveyed, not exceeding five hundred miles, five cents; and for any distance exceeding five hundred miles, ten cents.

Under the former low rate of postage, a Postmaster would mail three thousand three hundred and thirty-three letters for seventy dollars of compensation, whereas he now receives that sum for mailing two thousand at the five cent rate, or one thousand at the ten cent rate of postage. If, therefore, the former rates of commission were an adequate compensation for the labor performed by Postmasters, it is manifest that their compensation, under the present rates of postage, is disproportionate to the service performed, and could with propriety be reduced.

I therefore suggest, for the consideration of Congress, the following rates of commissions in lieu of those now allowed:

On any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, fifty per cent.; but to any Postmaster, at whose office the mail is to arrive regularly, between the hours of nine o'clock at night and five o'clock in the morning, sixty per cent.

On any sum over one hundred dollars, and not exceeding four hundred dollars, forty per cent.

On any sum over four hundred dollars, but not exceeding twenty-four hundred dollars, thirty per cent.

And on all sums over twenty-four hundred dollars, ten per cent.

On the amount of postage on letters and packages received at a distributing office, for distribution, eight per cent.

These rates of commissions on our rates of postage, will give a more ample compensation to Postmasters for their labor than they would receive by the present rates of commissions upon the former low rate of postage. And while these rates of commissions would afford a just compensation to Postmasters, they would save to the Department a considerable amount of the current revenues, and, to that extent, aid in rendering it self-sustaining.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully, Your obedient servant, JOHN H. REAGAN, Postmaster General.

THE PRESIDENT.

CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA.

GENERAL POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT, AUDITOR'S OFFICE, RICHMOND, VA., Jan. 22d, 1862.

Hon, JOHN H. REAGAN, Postmaster General:

Sin: I have the honor to report the receipts and expenditures of the Postoffice Department for the 3rd quarter, endending the 3d September, A. D., 1861.

255.457 10

By reference to the report from this Bureau, dated 22d November, 1861, it will be seen that the excess of expenditures over postal receipts for the fractional quarter, ending 30th June, 1861, was as per Tabular Statement. 108,553 30 Add excess of expenditures as above..........255,457 10

Total deficiency 4 months......$364,010 40

If the same relative proportion should continue between the receipts and expenditures up to 30th June, 1862 (the end of the fiscal year,) the deficiency will then amount to $1,092,121 20 which will not be covered by the amount appropriated by Congress to supply deficiencies in the postal revenue.

By a comparison of this estimated deficiency, however, with the deficiency in the postal revenue under the Government of the United States, there is obvious cause of congratulation in the success which has resulted to the Department in reducing to such an extent the expenditures of the postal system.

The deficiencies in the postal revenue of the United States for the fiscal year, ending 30th June, 1860, according to the

from the foregoing comparative calculation it appears that notwithstanding the difficulties and embarrassments by which the Department has been surrounded, there has been saved to the Treasury over One Million of Dollars.

Leaving unexpended at this date...... 7,762 72

In order to avoid the confusion in which these telegraphic accounts are frequently involved, I respectfully suggest that some sworn officer should be authorized to superintend the expenditures under the Act above mentioned, and whose approval should accompany each account. Some of these accounts have been approved by Mr. Dowell, others by Dr. Morris, and recently some accounts have been sent up from General Magruder's Division, which are approved by parties whose signatures are unknown to this office, and are suspended for further evidence.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
BOLLING BAKER,
Auditor.
