GENERALS*

(Regular)

SAMUEL COOPER. Born in Hackensack, N. J., June 12, 1798. Appointed from Virginia, August 31, 1861, to rank from May 16, 1861; confirmed August 31, 1861, and April 23, 1863; Adjutant and Inspector General; paroled at Charlotte, N. C., May 3, 1865. Died in Alexandria County, Virginia, December 3, 1876.

ALBERT S. JOHNSTON. Born in Mason County, Kentucky, February 3, 1803. Appointed from Texas, August 31, 1861, to rank from May 30, 1861; confirmed August 31, 1861. Killed in action at Shiloh, Tenn., April 6, 1862.

*Authorized by Act of Congress approved May 16, 1861, as follows:

"Section 2. That the five general officers provided by existing laws for the Confederate States shall have the rank and denomination of 'general,' instead of 'brigadier-general,' which shall be the highest military grade known to the Confederate States. . . ."

ROBERT E. LEE. Born in Stratford, Westmoreland County, Virginia, January 19, 1807. Appointed from Virginia, August 31, 1861, to rank from June 14, 1861; confirmed August 31, 1861, and April 23, 1863; confirmed General in Chief of the Armies of the Confederate States, January 31, 1865; paroled at Appomattox Court House, Va., April 9, 1865. Died at Lexington, Va., October 12, 1870.

JOSEPH E. JOHNSTON. Born in Cherry Grove, near Farmville, Va., February 3, 1807. Appointed from Virginia, August 31, 1861, to rank from July 4, 1861; confirmed August 31, 1861, and April 23, 1863; paroled at Greensboro, N. C., May 2, 1865. Died at Washington, D. C., March 21, 1891.

PETER G. T. BEAUREGARD. Born near New Orleans, La., May 28, 1818. Appointed from Louisiana, August 31, 1861, to rank from July 21, 1861; confirmed August 31, 1861, and April 23, 1863; the Journal of the Provisional Congress also shows this officer confirmed as General, Confederate States Army, July 30, 1861, to date from July 21, 1861; paroled at Greensboro, N. C., May 1, 1865. Died at New Orleans, La., February 20, 1893.

Died at Galveston, Tex., September 27, 1876.

GENERAL*

(Provisional Army)

E. KIRBY SMITH. Born in St. Augustine, Fla., May 16, 1824. Appointed from Florida, February 19, 1864, to date from February 19, 1864; confirmed May 11, 1864; on June 2, 1865, at Galveston Harbor, General Smith approved the terms of the convention of May 26, 1865, for the surrender of his troops in the Trans-Mississippi Department; nothing has been found of record to show that he gave an individual parole at that time. On June 15, 1866, General Smith advised General U. S. Grant that he (Smith) had always regarded his signature ratifying the articles of convention surrendering his troops as a parole. He died at Sewanee, Tenn., March 28, 1893.

*Authorized by Act of Congress approved February 17, 1864, as follows:

"That the President may appoint one general in the provisional army of the Confederate States, when, in his discretion, it shall be deemed necessary and proper, for the command of the Trans-Mississippi Military Department, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate."

GENERAL*

(Provisional Army, with Temporary Rank)

JOHN B. HOOD. Born in Owenville, Ky., June 1, 1831. Appointed from Texas, July 18, 1864, to date from July 18, 1864; reverted to rank of Lieutenant General, Provisional Army, January 23, 1865; on March 16, 1865, the following resolution was adopted by the Senate: "Resolved, That General J. B. Hood, having been appointed General, with temporary rank and command, and having been relieved from duty as Commander of the Army of Tennessee, and not having been reappointed to any other command appropriate to the rank of General, he has lost the rank of General, and therefore cannot be confirmed as such." General Hood died in New Orleans, La., August 30, 1879.

*Authorized by Act of Congress approved May 31, 1864, as follows:

"That the President be, and he is hereby, authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint temporary officers of the rank of brigadier general, major general, lieutenant general, or general for the provisional army, and assign them to any appropriate command.

"Section 2. That the said officers, so appointed, shall only hold their said rank and their said command for such time as the temporary exigency may require, at the expiration of which time they shall resume their previous permanent rank and command."

*Authorized by Acts of Congress approved September 18, 1862, and February 17, 1864, as follows:

(September 18, 1862.)

"That the sixth section of the act to provide for the public defense, approved on the sixth of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, be amended by adding, after the words 'Brigades into divisions,' the words 'and divisions into army corps,' and each army corps shall be commanded by a lieutenant general, to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. . . ."

(February 17, 1864.)

"Section 2. That the President may, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint lieutenant generals in the provisional army of the Confederate States when, in his discretion, it shall be deemed necessary for the command of any one of the military departments.

"Section 3. That the officers appointed under the provisions of this act shall continue to hold the rank herein provided so long as they shall efficiently discharge the duties in command of said several departments, and no longer, but will resume thereafter their former rank in the service."

FLAGS OF THE CONFEDERATE ARMY AND NAVY*

1. THE STARS AND BARS

The flag recommended by the "Committee on a Proper Flag for the Confederate States of America," appointed by the Provisional Congress, in its report of March 4, 1861, is as follows:

"That the flag of the Confederate States of America shall consist of a red field with a white space extending horizontally through the center, and equal in width to one-third the width of the flag. The red space above and below to be of the same width as the white. The union blue extending down through the white space and stopping at the lower red space. In the center of the union a circle of white stars, corresponding in number with the States in the Confederacy.

"NOTE.—The union is square; the stars five-pointed. The length of the flag one and a half times the width."

*This description of the flags of the Confederate Government was prepared and kindly furnished by Dr. Samuel E. Lewis of Washington, D. C.

2. THE BATTLE FLAG

The Battle Flag is square, having a Greek Cross (saltier) of blue and white, with thirteen equal white five-pointed stars; upon a red field; the whole bordered with white. There are three sizes: Infantry, 48 inches square; Artillery, 36 inches square; Cavalry, 30 inches square. The proportions for an Infantry Flag are: 48 inches by 48 inches (exclusive of the border); the blue arms of the cross, $7\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide; the white edging to the cross, $\frac{1}{2}$ inch wide; the white border around the flag proper, $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide. Total outside measurement, 51 inches. The stars are five-pointed, inscribed within a circle of 6 inches diameter, and are of uniform size. There should be five eyelet holes in the hoist, next the pole. The Artillery and Cavalry flags are correspondingly reduced in all proportions.

3. THE NATIONAL FLAG

established by Congress May 1, 1863, is as follows:

“The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the Flag of the Confederate States shall be as follows: The field to be white, the length double the width of the flag, with the union (now used as the Battle Flag) to be a square of two-thirds the width of the flag, having the ground red; thereon a broad saltier of blue, bordered with white, and emblazoned with white mullets or five-pointed stars, corresponding in number to that of the Confederate States.”

established by Congress March 4, 1865, is as follows:

“The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the Flag of the Confederate States of America shall be as follows: The width, two-thirds of its length, with the union now used as the Battle Flag, to be in width three-fifths of the width of the flag, and so proportioned as to leave the length of the field on the side of the union twice the width of the field below it; to have the ground red and a broad blue saltier thereon, bordered with white and emblazoned with mullets or five-pointed stars, corresponding in number to that of the Confederate States; the field to be white except the outer half from the union to be a red bar extending the width of the flag.

THE FLAGS FLOWN BY THE NAVY

THE STARS AND BARS

This flag has been previously described.

THE NEW ENSIGN

The new Ensign, Pennant, and Jack, by order of the Secretary of the Navy, May 26, 1863, as follows:

“The New Ensign will be made according to the following directions, viz.: The field to be white, the length one and a half times the width of the flag, with the union (now used as the Battle Flag, having the ground red, thereon a broad saltier of blue, to the union as $14\frac{4}{5}$, bordered with white, to the union as 1:22, and emblazoned with white mullets, or five-pointed stars, diameter of stars to union as $1:6\frac{2}{5}$, corresponding in number to that of the Confederate States.

THE PENNANT

“A white ground, its size to be as 1:72, or its length seventy-two times its width at the head, and tapering to a point.

“The union of the Pennant to be as follows: All red from the head for three times its width, with white border equal to half its width, then all blue in length equal to twelve times its width, to be emblazoned with stars, in numbers equal to those in the Ensign, with a white border equal to half the width, and then red three times the width, with the fly all white.”

THE JACK

“To be the same as the union for the Ensign, except its length shall be one and a half times its width.”
