The Charleston Postal Stationery Provisionals

Alfred Huger, the Charleston postmaster, apparently expected the Confederate Post Office to issue stamps soon after the takeover of the postal system on 1 June 1861. This did not happen and in early August he contracted with Evans & Cogswell Company to prepare stamps and envelopes.

The envelopes were probably prepared from a wood cut die and printed by the typographic method in the upper right corner of envelopes of various colors.

The Charleston Mercury announced the availability of the Charleston stamped envelopes in the 15 August 1861 issue. The earliest recorded use is 16 August 1861.

The design of the indicium is very similar to the design of the adhesive provisional. For this reason, the firm of Evans and Cogswell is believed to have printed both the postal stationery envelopes and the adhesive provisionals.

More details on the printing can be found in Richard Calhoun's 2012 book on the Charleston provisionals (see 'References' in "Notes").

WARNING: There are some excellent fakes of the postal stationery envelopes and Charleston postmarks of the period.

NOTE: Every effort is made to ensure the accuracy of the census, but the inclusion of an item is not a guarantee of authenticity.

Count of the Charleston Postal Stationery Provisionals

Notes

The Handstamped 10c Value

A cut square exists that bears a striking resemblance to the 10c postal stationery 10c value. This item is listed in the Scott Catalog but not in the CSA Catalog. For more information see "References" for the Dietz article on the provisional 10c handstamp.

Fakes

There are several dangerous fakes of the 5c blue Charleston indicium. The major difference between the genuine and the fake is in the numeral "5." On the genuine the flag of the "5" has a flat top. On the fake the top of the flag on the "5" is slightly concave. On some this is quite noticeable on others less so.

Genuine

Fake

Fake

The single circle postmark was introduced before the war and Confederate use show use in the Confederate show wear. The wear is noticeable in the lack of sharpness in the letters. Apparently the postmark was also cleaned from time to time as some postmark impressions are much clearer than others.

On the genuine there is a faint colorless line through the stem of the “E” of “CHARLESTON” just below the middle arm. After September 1861, the bottom of the letter “S” begins to disappear.

Genuine

Fake

The cover above has both a fake indicium and a fake postmark.
