

Census of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, 5c Maltese-Cross Border Postmaster's Provisionals

Compiled by Francis J. Crown, Jr.

Description

NEW-LA-A02

The Maltese-Cross Border Provisionals

The Baton Rouge 5c Maltese-border provisional was typeset and printed in two colors. The lettering and border were printed in red over a green bull's eye and spider web background. The red text inside the border, "P. O. / Baton Rouge, La. / 5 / J. McCormick," is the same as that used for the Baton Rouge 5c lattice border stamps.

The plate consisted of two horizontal rows of five subjects. The stamps were printed at the offices of the Baton Rouge Daily Gazette & Comet.

For detailed information on the Baton Rouge provisionals and their plating see Calhoun in "Reference."

NOTE: The inclusion of an item in this census is not a guarantee of authenticity.

Notes

Pair on Cover

There is a legacy listing in the 2012 CSA Catalog for a pair of the Maltese-cross border provisionals on cover. There is a good possibility that the pair was mistaken for the two singles on the cover illustrated below.

Two singles on a cover postmarked 19 November 1861 (CN-002).

McCormick Error

The McCormick error is a typesetting error. When the typesetter prepared the setting that became position 7 in the plate the letter “c” was used instead of an “o” in spelling the postmaster’s last name.

This error is also found on the 2c and 5c lattice border Baton Rouge provisionals.

Fakes

There are good fakes of the Maltese-Cross border Baton Rouge provisional. However, there are several characteristics that can be used to tell one from the other.

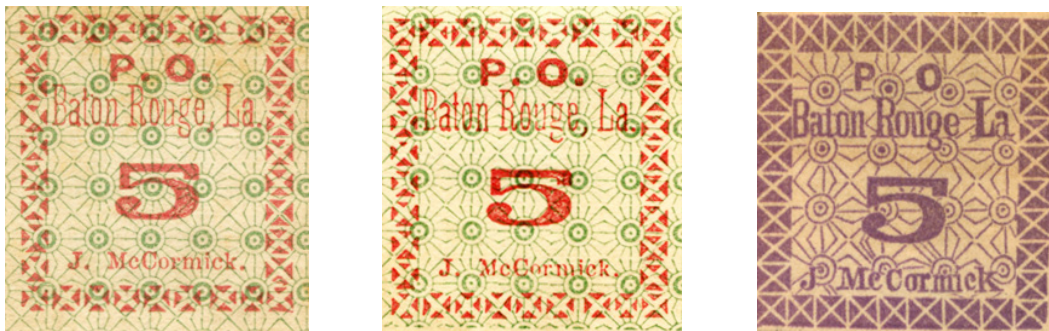

Genuine

The period after the "P" of "P. O." is over the top right of the letter "R" in "Rouge."

Note the gap in the Maltese-cross border at top and bottom. There is always a gap in both the top and bottom border.

The name of the postmaster, J. McCormick, is set close to the bottom Maltese-cross border.

Fakes

The period after the "P" of "P. O." is just to the right side of the top of the "R" of "Rouge."

The top Maltese-cross border has only a gap in the top border, or no gap at all.

The name of the postmaster, J. McCormick, is set further from the bottom Maltese-cross border. Or, as in the right image the type is too large.

The Maltese-cross border pieces are not uniform or are too large.
