PREFACE.

In the preparation of this Directory much care has been exercised, and every exertion made to render it complete and perfect in all its parts.

The degrees of success attained in this desirable particular, is perceptible in the following pages. The following explanations will be found useful to those consulting the work. Owing to the want of numbers in most of the streets, it has been found necessary to indicate locations by describing them as nearly as might be; and in order to save space a number of abbreviations have been made use of, a list of which will be found on page 21.

Where, following the name and business of an individual, one address only is given, this address is to be understood as the residence of that individual. One address only in connection with the name of a firm, is the place of business. In connection with the name of each firm is given the names of the members. Should the residence of either of the partners be desired it will be found in connection with the name in its proper place.

To those who have kindly furnished us with information, we return our sincere thanks, and to the public generally for their very liberal patronage.
